

Launch Intro Video

Jared Berry, Eran Holt

Summary

Launch aims to help churches launch or relaunch their student ministries. Eran Holt, Director of Lead the Generation, and Jared Berry, New York Ministry Network Nextgen Director, emphasize the importance of youth ministries in changing students' lives and impacting communities. They guide how to get the most out of the Launch experience, including praying, focusing on the video content, taking notes, asking questions, and engaging with the cohort and coach. They encourage participants to prioritize the coaching calls and cohort meetings, reminding them they are not alone in this journey.

Next Steps

- Pray for the students, leaders, and the entire process of launching or relaunching the student ministry.
- Watch the video content, take notes, and identify questions to discuss with the coach and cohort.
- Prioritize attending coaching calls and cohort meetings, even when life gets busy.
- Engage with the coach and cohort, build relationships, and ask questions during the calls and meetings.
- Contact the coach with any questions or concerns throughout the Launch process.
